Featuring Rayburn Café's Ricky Toon

Wednesday, February 24

A native Washingtonian, Ricky Toon has been working on Capitol Hill since 1985, continuing a family legacy of government service. His grandmother, Roberta Edwards (“Grandma Cornbread”), one of the first cooks of Longworth, is a culinary legend on Capitol Hill. Ricky has 4 children and 6 six grandchildren who reside in the area. When asked why he loves this job: “I just love to cook in the greatest city in the world.”

Ricky is sharing one of his great recipes with us: Buttermilk Fried Chicken. Try it February 24th! You may also download it from promotions tab on the Dining Services website and try it at home: <http://go.compass-usa.com/house>
